The Ohio University Singers is the premier mixed ensemble at Ohio University, dedicated to performing outstanding choral repertoire of all styles and periods. In addition to presenting public performances, the group provides professional training for students planning careers as vocal performers and choral music educators.

The Ohio University Singers has toured and performed in Germany, Austria, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Cincinnati, and most recently on stage with The Rolling Stones in Columbus. Please join us on the final stop of our winter tour in Zanesville, OH.
